

The whole point of a democracy is to be able to hear different points of view. That is also the point of the media. A people that are only able to hear one side live in a totalitarian country. Please do not participate in the destruction of a bedrock principle of the United States.